Why Permission Requests?

- IEA study instruments and other study-related materials are IEA's intellectual property
- Permission request form was introduced to gain more control and a better overview of the use of IEA materials
- Permission requests help to monitor how IEA materials are used for non-commercial (and commercial) purposes
- Permission request help to avoid misuse of IEA materials

General Permission Request Procedure

- Using IEA materials for data collection, publishing or other research purposes requires permission
- Copyright information and permission request form are available on the IEA website
- Send permission request form to permission.requests@iea.nl
- IEA reviews incoming permission request forms and consults with ISCs or NRCs (translations) if necessary
- Materials can be provided after permission was granted
